About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Lead the national Value & Access strategy across priority therapeutic areas and key launches.
- Shape pipeline opportunities and maximize asset value by incorporating payer insights and access considerations.
- Drive integrated access plans with Commercial, Medical, Public Affairs, Finance, and international partners.
- Build strategic partnerships with governments, payers, policymakers, healthcare providers, hospitals, and patient organizations.
- Shape healthcare systems through collaborative solutions that improve patient access, affordability, and sustainability.
- Define national pricing strategies and lead reimbursement negotiations, tendering, contracting, and pricing governance.
- Oversee health economics, health technology assessment, evidence planning, value dossiers, and submission excellence.
- Lead Access Field teams and account strategies to accelerate access and strengthen healthcare system readiness.
- Drive launch excellence, timely access, sustainable price realization, and successful reimbursement outcomes across the portfolio.
- Build and develop a high-performing organization that fosters innovation, collaboration, accountability, and talent progression.

Essential Requirements:

- Bachelor's, Master's, Doctor of Pharmacy, or equivalent degree in a relevant scientific, healthcare, or economic discipline.
- Minimum 10 years of experience in Market Access, Pricing, Health Economics, Health Policy, or related disciplines.
- Proven people leadership experience, including leading, developing, coaching, and retaining high-performing teams.
- Deep understanding of healthcare systems, reimbursement pathways, pricing frameworks, and payer decision-making processes.
- Strong track record in pricing strategy, reimbursement negotiations, innovative contracting, and payer strategy development.
- Experience engaging governments, payers, health technology assessment agencies, policymakers, providers, and other external stakeholders.
- Demonstrated ability to lead across Commercial, Medical, Public Affairs, Finance, and other cross-functional partners.
- Strategic leadership capability to navigate complexity, influence senior stakeholders, shape external environments, and deliver sustainable impact.
- Proficient English, both written and spoken.
